Capabilities Statement

Next Generation Security division was founded by former a Orleans Parish School Board Chief B.J. Bilbo. The company was formed as a subsidiary of Next Generation Logistics to fill the market void in the maritime security industry. Currently the firm operates as a fully insured and bonded, self-performing contractor owning contracts with Federal, State, and Local agencies in the gulf region.

Next Generation Security principals have over 45 years combined security experience. Next Gen's premise is crime prevention through environmental design. We offer complete security solutions. Our use of the highest quality cutting-edge equipment and training techniques ensure top-notch protection for persons, property, or events. All services are provided by uniformed or nonuniformed officers with 24 hour communication.
